

CONDITIONS IN CONVICT CAMPS DEPLORABLE, LEGISLATORS SAY IN REPORT TO COMMITTEE

Russell Favors Reapportionment at Coming Session

GOVERNOR-ELECT BELIEVES ACTION SHOULD BE TAKEN

Incoming Executive Declares Representation of People Is in Jeopardy Unless Legislature Votes for Redistricting.

FIRST STATEMENT MADE ON SUBJECT

Georgia's New Leader Follows Example Set by Harris and George in Favoring Bill Passage.

Governor-elect Richard B. Russell Jr. will throw administrative influence and support behind the legislative efforts to bring about a re-arrangement of congressional districts at the regular session meeting next week, he said from his home in Windsor late Thursday.

"I feel as I suppose every citizen of Georgia feels," the governor-elect said, "and that is that it would be very unfortunate to the state if the legislature fails to enact legislation to meet the re-apportionment based on the census."

The governor-elect, who has not previously announced his views on any legislative question, pointed out that if the legislature failed to act, it would be possible for three or four, maybe more, members to be elected from one district.

"Such an eventuality," he added, "would be unfortunate not only to the districts but to the state as a whole. Each district is entitled to have its own representation in the congress and I hope the general assembly will dispose of the matter in regular session."

In his statement Thursday, the governor-elect, who succeeds to the gubernatorial chair on Saturday, June 27, joined both United States senators and all members of the house delegation who have pointed out recently the dangers in a failure to comply with the federal mandate.

Georgia's failure to gain in the 1930 census is responsible for the loss of two members of the national house of representatives.

Former Congressman W. D. Upshaw, of this district, has told friends that he would again seek congressional honors if the legislature failed to redistrict and election was up to the state at large. He would be the candidate of the extremist dries with an excellent chance of winning a seat, in the opinion of many.

For the purpose of presenting a uniform front on the importance of passing a redistricting bill, members of the house delegation will assemble in Atlanta, June 25, in response to a call issued by Representative Charles R. Crisp, of Americus, dean of the Georgia delegation.

Crisp has called the meeting, he said, more to urge the legislature to pass legislation at the regular session than to consider any particular plan. It is doubtful, in view of the fact that two members are to lose districts, that there will be any agreement as to how the state should be redivided.

Failure of the legislature to pass such legislation would result in all candidates for the ten seats going before the voters of the entire state with the prospect that there would be between 20 and 40 candidates. The 10 highest would be chosen.

Considerable discussion of an extra session to deal with redistricting legislation has been heard on Capitol hill and from legislators, but the consensus of opinion is that it will be thrashed out within the next 60 days.

DO-X Reaches Bahia After Coast Flight

BAHIA, Brazil, June 18.—(AP)—The giant German seaplane Do-X landed here today at 12:55 p. m. (10:25 a. m. eastern standard time) after a flight from Natal along the coast of Brazil.

The trip was the first stage of a flight to Rio de Janeiro, where the ship, which crossed the Atlantic with 13 passengers on June 6, will be exhibited at the Brazilian capital.

Chicago's Cow Pasture Sells for Half Million

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP)—The Hyde park cow pasture brought half a million dollars on the auction block.

For 50 years cows have chewed their cud in John Dunham's pasture in the heart of the southside residential district. By the terms of the will, Dunham's 10-acre lot couldn't be sold until his daughter died.

The daughter, Virginia, died two years ago. The pasture was sold at auction yesterday and was purchased by the Harris Trust and Savings bank for $490,166.64. The bank refused to disclose for whom it acted.

ATTACK LAUNCHED ON RAILROAD PLEA FOR HIGHER RATES

Opposition From Varied Sources Is Voiced in Letters to Hoover and Interstate Group.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—Opposition to the proposed 15 per cent increase in freight rates developed today in letters to President Hoover and the interstate commerce commission.

Several communications urging quick, favorable action on the petitions of the roads, also were received. Representative Evans, democrat, Montana; Senator Shipstead, farmer-labor, Minnesota; Carl Williams, cotton member of the federal farm board, the North Dakota railroad commission, and the Wyoming Stock Dealers' Association protested.

Merchants, manufacturers, securities dealers and private citizens came further opposition.

Many of the protests asserted that rates, especially on farm products, were already too high. Some predicted disaster both to business generally and the railroads if the commission grants the increase.

Williams, speaking as an individual, said any increase in freight rates on farm products would be most "unpopular." The farmer believes rates too high now, he continued, adding that there was justification for this attitude.

Representative Evans expressed the opinion an increase would be destructive to shippers, suicide for the railroads, and plunge the whole country into greater distress.

"A general increase in railroad rates at any time is an attack on the income of commerce and agriculture," wrote Senator Shipstead. He suggested that the commission tell the railroads to "be patient" and "in the meantime take their losses with the rest of us."

The Wyoming Stock Dealers' Association, in convention at Lander, Wyo., on June 3, adopted a resolution protesting any increase.

The North Dakota railroad commission opposed the increase on the ground that higher rates would impose an undue burden on agriculture.

William E. Bird, of New York, urged granting the increase speedily. Such action, he said, would give jobs to many men and improve business conditions.

Some protests urged betterment of the railroad situation took several forms. Some protested wanted railroad wages reduced. The United States Association suggested that instead of a rate raise railroad taxes be reduced and assessed against motor trucks. Others thought the commission and the railroads should find means of reducing railroad overhead expense.

Hotel Lanier, Macon, Engulfed by Flames

MACON, Ga., June 18.—(AP)—The Hotel Lanier, five-story structure in downtown Macon, caught fire late tonight and a few minutes later flames were shooting out of windows on several floors. It was not learned immediately if any persons were injured. The hotel was founded in 1836. T. W. Hooks, formerly of Dublin, Ga., is proprietor.

Vanderbilt claimed he chased Arno from his home Monday morning and tried to fire a shot at the cartoonist but his revolver was empty. Arno has denied knowledge of the chase.

LONDON BELIEVES MELLON HAS COME TO DISCUSS DEBT

AMERICAN TREASURY HEAD SPENDS AN HOUR WITH PREMIER MACDONALD AND
RUMORS ARE STARTED.

BY ALVIN HALLMAN.
LONDON, July 18.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the United States treasury, lent an ear to leaders of British political and financial life today.

He spent an hour with Prime Minister MacDonald, Foreign Secretary Henderson and Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, at the prime minister's private quarters in the house of commons, and considerably more than that with Mr. Norman at his hotel.

Although it was officially insisted that Mr. Mellon's visit was nothing more than a pleasure trip, during which he hopes to visit his son at Cambridge tonight, there was an increasing tendency to connect his presence with the momentous question of reparations and war debts.

Coincidentally with the appearance of the secretary of the treasury in the house of commons for the second time in two days, it was announced that Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Henderson would go to Berlin July 17. An invitation for the visit was extended by Chancellor Bruening and Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, when the two German statesmen were in London.

The trip of Bruening and Curtius to London, like that of Mr. Mellon, was characterized officially as "a friendly visit," but out of it grew talk, now current in European capitals, that the entire question of reparations and war debts may be reviewed somewhat sympathetically by the governments concerned.

Just as at the time of the Bruening-Curtius visit, secrecy is being observed in all quarters as to the character of the conversations between the prime minister and his American visitor.

TREASURY LOWERS TOTAL OF DEFICIT

Income Tax Collections Reduce Red Ink Figure
by $82,000,000.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—Federal finances still flourished in red ink today to the extent of more than a billion dollars although the total had dropped sharply from yesterday's high figure.

Income tax collections joined foreign debt payments to bring the deficit $82,000,000 nearer President Hoover's estimate of $950,000,000, a figure treasury officials now believe will prove excessive when the books close June 30.

Reports on the second quarter instalments on 1930 income taxes closely approximated the previous estimates which forecast June collections of $290,000,000. Payments on June 16 of $29,368,152 brought the total to $319,368,152, compared with $318,900,000 as compared with $318,900,000 in the corresponding 1930 period.

Though the deficit stood at $1,017,241,575 as compared with $1,069,063,063 the preceding day, tax receipts for June 17, available tomorrow, were expected to reach a high point for the month which already shows a $23,216,215 surplus of receipts over expenditures.

Foreign debt payments exceeding $111,000,000 of which $93,083,642 was applied to operating expenses, provided the other major entry on the credit page of the ledger.

Fiscal expenditures totaled $4,063,507,000 on June 16, against receipts of $3,948,265,000.

Tobacco taxes maintained a comparatively high level showing a decline of only $5,162,800 for an 11-month total of $402,467,600. Cigarettes provided $324,388,700 for a decrease of $175,200. May cigarette payments showed an increase of $440,500 over that month last year for a total of $31,343,500.

RAILROAD NAMED IN U. S. TRUE BILL

Norfolk and Western Is Accused of Giving Concessions to Shippers.

The Norfolk and Western Railway Company, of Roanoke, Va., Thursday was indicted by the federal grand jury here on 20 counts of violation of the Elkins act, which prohibits the giving of concessions to shippers.

The penalty for violation of the Elkins act is $1,000 as a minimum and $20,000 as a maximum on each count, the 20 counts involving possible fines ranging from $20,000 to $400,000, in the event of conviction, according to District Attorney Clint W. Hager.

The defendant railroad is charged with giving a concession of two and a half cents per 100 pounds to the International Paper Sales Company on wharfage and handling of newspaper shipped to Atlanta. The interstate commerce commission tariff provides for a total charge of six cents, where the railroad charged only three and a half cents, according to the indictment.

GREAT WELCOME FOR KEY OPPOSED BY DRY LEADER

Superintendent of Anti-
Saloon League Scores
Plans for Big Reception for Mayor.

The triumphal return of Mayor James L. Key, which his friends plan to make the biggest and most pretentious welcome ever accorded an Atlanta mayor, was opposed Thursday by Dr. Charles O. Jones, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Georgia.

Jones flayed reports that dry fanatics may make an attempt on the mayor's life and discounted in advance any enthusiastic reception, saying that the crowd will turn out if at all to "cock their ears to hear the assassin's gun."

He scored the "advertising" of the mayor in the appeal which Luke Arnold, executive secretary, made to Mayor James J. Walker, of New York, for safe escort of Key from the pier to the hotel in New York and branded the report of the threats against the mayor's life as a "fake."

In opposing the welcome at which Key's friends anticipate a dozen brass bands will be in the line of march, Jones said police escorts have been asked to protect him "as soon as his feet press the tarmac, but he would not be in the parade as a sort of gladiatorial holiday."

Arnold struck at Jones' "carefully prepared statement" as "the pathetic talk of a man who just wanted to talk and did, but who didn't take the trouble to find out the facts."

Some of Jones' Thursday calls at the executive offices at the city hall pledging their services in assuring the mayor the greatest reception in Atlanta history, and in the interim George Finch, Atlanta attorney, announced that 15 recall petitions are at the city hall.

TOLER HONORED BY CIRCULATORS

Constitution Executive Made Vice President of National Group.

John T. Toler, circulation manager of The Constitution, was elected first vice president of the International Circulation Managers' Association Thursday at the annual convention of that body in Asheville, N. C. Mr. Toler has been a member of the association since it first was organized.

C. W. Hixson, of the Syracuse (N. Y.) Post Standard, was elected president to succeed J. N. Eisenlohr, of the Chicago Daily News. J. T. Montgomery, of the Detroit News, was elected second vice president and Clarence Eyster, of the Peoria (Ill.) Star, was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Toronto, Canada, was selected for the 1932 convention.

Mr. Toler, who has managed the circulation department of The Constitution for nearly a quarter of a century, began his newspaper career in February, 1889, on the old Memphis Appeal. In 1891, when the Appeal-Avalanche was formed by consolidating the two papers, he became circulation manager.

In 1902 Mr. Toler went over to the Memphis Commercial, a new paper, as circulation manager, a post which he held in 1904 when the Commercial bought the Appeal-Avalanche and merged the two papers into the present Commercial-Appeal. In 1907 he severed his connection with the paper in order to attend school for two years, returning to the journalistic field in 1909 as circulation manager of the old Nashville American at Nashville, Tenn.

Before forming his connection with The Constitution Mr. Toler served as circulation manager of the St. Louis Star, the Chicago Examiner, the Memphis News-Scimitar, and the weekly Commercial-Appeal. He is widely recognized as one of the ablest executives in the newspaper industry.

17 Slain as Savages Retaliate For Insults to Tribal Beauties

PIETERMARITZBURG, Union of South Africa, June 18.—(AP)—A group of native beauties of the Amabonvu tribe, who received unwelcome attention from braves of the Hlongwa tribe while they were attending a wedding feast, launched a savage war which today has resulted in the death of 17 natives and wounding of 17 others.

The native belles were attending a wedding feast in the tribal camp of the rival Hlongwa when, in the midst of the feast and revelry, they resented the attentions of some of the Hlongwa braves and left the party in a huff.

When they returned to their homes, their own Amabonvu braves hastened to their store and immediately organized to round up other mercenaries.

"Mr. Zero" Is Failure in Man-Power Auction

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—"Mr. Zero" unstrapped a portable auction block from a taxicab in Forty-ninth street today and prepared to knock down 400 white collar workers to the highest bidders.

A crowd gathered around the man whose identity as Urban Le-doux has been lost during his years as "Mr. Zero," the dispenser of free doughnuts and coffee. The only trouble was there were no bidders.

Finally "Mr. Zero" took on the role of bidder as well as auctioneer, offering room, board and $2.50 a day to 15 of the 400. He said he would put them to work at his employment headquarters.

COUNTY APPROVES BRIDGE CONTRACT; TO CALL FOR BIDS

Work on New Broad Street Structure Will Start Soon; Hendrix To Sign Pact With City.

Prompt reconstruction of the old Broad street bridge was made certain Thursday afternoon when the Fulton county commission ratified a form of contract proposed by the city and authorized Walter C. Hendrix, chairman of the commission, to sign the paper for the county. Final details of the negotiations will be closed within a few days, with the formal signing of the contract and the tender by the city to the county of a check for $34,000, it was said.

Members of the commission said that as soon as the contract is signed and the city's check is in the county's hands, bids will be asked. Under a provision in the contract insisted on by the county, in the event the lowest bid is more than $88,000, the county has the option of rejecting bids and either doing the work with its own forces or voiding the contract.

A contract submitted previously by the city had been rejected by the commission on the ground that it did not comply with the county's stipulations. Prompt action by city council resulted in the drawing of the new contract, and this paper, with the addition of a clause which would require that Charles B. Shelton said City Attorney James L. Mayson has agreed upon, was adopted by the county board.

The contract provides that on payment of $84,000 to the county, the commission will take the sum so paid and add to it the cost of the work and sufficient to tear down and reconstruct the Broad street bridge, which has been condemned as unsafe, in accordance with plans and specifications prepared and approved by the mayor and general council. The city is to bear at its own expense all inspection charges, and the city, through the chief lines which County Attorney Charles B. Shelton said City Attorney James L. Mayson has agreed upon, was adopted by the county board.

Salvage from the old bridge, or its to be taken over by the county, or its contractor, and will be considered a part of the cost of the city of the reconstruction of the bridge, the contract provides.

C. E. Kauffman, city bridge engineer, attended the meeting of the commission, and explained that consent of the N. C. & St. L. railway for the erection of two piers for the bridge already was obtained, and the bridge already was obtained in the near future.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—Ambassador Dawes' quip that a diplomat's life is "easy on the brain but hell on the feet" got another comeback today—this time from Henry P. COURT TO TRY "LEGS" CALLED BY ROOSEVELT

ALBANY, N. Y., June 18.—(AP)—Governor Roosevelt tonight ordered an extraordinary term of supreme court in Troy, starting July 13, to try Jack "Legs" Diamond, gangster, who has been indicted for assault, carrying, coercion and kidnapping in the Grover Parks torture case. Diamond obtained a change of venue from Greene county to Rensselaer county on the ground he would be unable to obtain a fair trial in the Catskills.

In calling for the extraordinary term, the governor said it appeared his satisfaction "that the public interest requires it." Several months ago, the governor directed the attorney-general to investigate the reported racketeering in Greene county. But for the governor's action, Diamond's case would not have come up until October.

HOFFMAN SCORES 'SELFISH' LEADERS

City Needs Men Who Will Put Municipal Good
First, Gas Head Says.

The call upon the "thinking element" of Atlanta to put in public office men who "represent the thought and progress of the city rather than their own selfish interest," was sounded Thursday afternoon by R. C. Hoffman Jr., vice president of the Atlanta Gas Light Company and the Southern Cities Public Service Company, in an address before the City Club of Atlanta.

"It is up to you who represent the thinking element of the city to insist that your representatives in our city government represent the thought and progress of the city rather than their own selfish careers," said Mr. Hoffman.

"And unless they do so," he continued, "it is up to the citizenry of Atlanta to put men in office that will do so."

Mr. Hoffman specifically mentioned men whom he termed "headline seekers" who create sensational news stories which give readers outside the state the impression that Georgia is a state of constant strife and discord and tend to frighten away capital anxious to invest where it will be assured of fair treatment.

"Never has there been a time in the state of Georgia," Mr. Hoffman declared, "when there was greater need for leadership. Never has there been a time when there was greater need of concerted co-operation; when the assertion of civic pride was more in demand."

"Are we going to let the politicians run the state?" asked Mr. Hoffman. "Are we going to let the little fellow with the big horn frighten us out of our rightful growth? Or are we going to stand together, facing the issues fairly and squarely, for a more glorious future?"

CALDWELL CHARGED WITH LAXITY AT TRIAL

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 18.—(AP)—The trust department of Caldwell & Co., $38,000,000 investment bank that collapsed last fall, was pictured today as operating for five years without once coming under the direct scrutiny of the concern's president, Rogers Caldwell.

Testimony to this effect was given by E. B. Smith, trust officer of the firm prior to its failure. Testifying in Caldwell's fraudulent breach of trust trial in criminal court, Smith said the concern's president never so much as entered the trust department or discussed a single trust with him in the five-year period of his employment.

Later, under questioning by the state, Smith said that as trust officer he was immediately in charge of the department and also acted as trust officer of the Bank of Tennessee, a subsidiary of Caldwell & Co.

Smith said his duties as trust officer very frequently necessitated his removing securities held in trust and substituting others. Those so substituted, he related, were at all times supposed to be equal in value to those removed, and he testified it was the trust officer's duty to see that this was the case.

'Chute Jump Fatal To Missouri Girl Leaping for Thrill

KANSAS CITY, June 18.—(AP)—The Missouri river near Fairfax airport was dragged today for the body of an 18-year-old restaurant employee who yesterday made a 2,500-foot parachute leap from a plane for the thrill of it.

From another plane Arthur Winthier, test pilot, said he saw the girl, Mrs. Ruth Dunlap, land in the river in shallow water and struggle with her chute.

He looked away momentarily, he said, and when he tried to locate the girl again she had disappeared.

Glenn Shomate, government-licensed parachute rigger, said the girl assured him she was experienced in jumping, but two of her friends said they did not believe she had ever made such a leap before.

LONG WILL APPROVE SHREVEPORT RECALL

NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—(AP)—Governor Huey P. Long today said that he was willing to sign a recall election petition for Mayor J. G. Palmer and the entire city council of Shreveport, though he made no specific reference to the recall movement against Public Safety Commissioner Tom C. Dawkins.

Petitioners in Shreveport today claimed they had sufficient signatures to ask for a recall election for Mr. Dawkins on the grounds that he had demoralized the police department, but Mr. Dawkins replied with a challenge to the mayor and other commissioners that he would resign if they would.

Suicide Fails To Halt Progress of Cinema

CHICAGO, June 18.—(AP)—Several thousand persons watched a movie in the Uptown theater last night, ignorant of the covered body of a suicide in a rear seat.

Just as pistol shots broke upon the sound screen, Christopher Kelley, 60, northside druggist, shot himself in the head. Only those in nearby seats knew of the shooting.

A police captain halted removal of the body until a coroner's physician arrived. It lay slumped in the seat and covered with a sheet for 20 minutes while the show "went on."

New Archipelago In South Atlantic Seen for Future

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(AP)—The forecast that a whole new archipelago like Japan may "emerge from the South Atlantic ocean in a few hundred thousand years" was expressed today by Rev. Frederick W. Sohon, Georgetown University seismologist.

This was the scientist's conclusion from reports of the discovery of two new islands, coupled with records in the seismology laboratory.

"I think it highly probable that a complete archipelago is growing up," Father Sohon said. "It would not surprise me at all if it developed, with volcanoes, like Japan."

But then he smiled. "We, of course, shall never see it." Father Sohon was away at a conference of seismologists when two ship captains reported the discovery of two new islands near St. Paul's rocks, off the coast of Brazil.

MONTGOMERY SCENE OF SUDDEN DRY DRIVE

70 Fall Into Net as U. S.
Officers Move Swiftly.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., June 18.—(AP)—Federal agents armed with search warrants and warrants for the arrest of alleged prohibition law violators tonight had arrested more than 70 persons within the city limits of Montgomery.

The agents proceeded with their raids so quietly that it was not until noon today that it became known that a drive was on. The agents made their first arrests late yesterday and continued under the direction of Victor J. Butthod, deputy prohibition administrator, until midnight.

Butthod divided his regular force into squads which moved through several sections of the city simultaneously and they struck before persons named in the warrants were aware that a drive was on.

The deputy prohibition administrator said the arrests were made on information obtained by undercover agents during the past 20 days. Those arrested were described by officers as "both large and small fry" in trafficking in liquor.

Dixie Girl Weds.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—Miss Florence M. Adams, daughter of Mrs. Henry W. Adams, of Nashville, Tenn., and New Orleans, and Beale E. Poste, of Columbus, Ohio, were on their way to California today following their marriage last night. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. B. A. MacLaughlin in the Church of the Transfiguration.

Valdosta Among Vice Presidents Chosen at Vancouver Meeting.

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 18.—(AP)—Charles A. Marigold, of Dallas, Texas, was elected president of the Hotel Greeters' Association of America at the 21st annual convention here yesterday. Kansas City, Mo., was chosen for the 1932 convention city.

M. E. Roeder, Denver, Colo., was named national secretary. The 12 vice presidents include M. Jackson, Monroe, La.; Nick Dozier, Louisville, Ky.; Jeff Ford, Washington, D. C.; Kenneth Hyde, Roanoke, Va.; H. Caldwell, Valdosta, Ga.; F. X. Unger, New York city, and John Quierk, Minneapolis. The new sergeant at arms is Duke Pope, St. Louis.

FULTON RATIFIES GRADY AID PLANS

crowded condition and lack of facilities at the county almshouse make necessary an arrangement for treatment, medical supplies and care for paupers at Grady's.

The mayor and council provided that the trustees of Grady may receive the appropriation direct from the county, the contract says. It is to be particularly understood, under the contract, that money received from Fulton county will be used in the hospital for treatment of cases sent from the county. The city agrees, under the contract, to furnish all services of Grady when and as available to paupers who reside outside the city but within the county.

The county's action is the result of a recent visit to a commission meeting by Sam C. Dobbs, chairman of the Grady board of trustees. John B. Franklin, superintendent of the hospital, and others, at which time an appeal for substantial county aid was made.

W. Eugene Harrington, vice chairman of the board of trustees, and Superintendent Franklin expressed the institution's gratitude for the county aid, and declared that Grady needs the money more at present than at any other time in history.

Cracks Up

RUTH NICHOLS.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Ruth Nichols, society aviatrix, today was bailed, temporarily at least, in her dream of being the first woman to fly alone across the Atlantic when her plane was damaged in a landing at Floyd Bennett field. She was unhurt, but the tail skid was torn from the plane and an interior bulkhead was sprung.

She had hoped to leave today for Nova Scotia, where the transatlantic hop was to have started, but mechanics estimated that it will be two or three days before the damage of the rough landing can be repaired.

MELLON VISIT STIRS COMMENT

Mr. Mellon today said nothing he was doing in London had the slightest official importance. He added that he wished any information regarding his conversations with Mr. MacDonald would come from the prime minister himself.

It is widely remarked in Great Britain that the visits of Mr. Mellon, Chancellor Bruening and Dr. Curtius, the forthcoming visit of Secretary of State Stimson and the visit of Mr. MacDonald and Mr. Henderson to Berlin, afford a most excellent opportunity to go over questions of vital interest in the current European and world economic situation.

In connection with these meetings of European statesmen, Geneva dispatches quote Le Journal of that city, to the effect that it is understood the British government has asked all European foreign ministers to be present at a meeting of the co-ordinating committee of the European union commission to be held there July 15.

Well informed Geneva quarters suggest that the question of Germany's financial situation and revision of the Young plan may come before the meeting.

If such is the case the "friendly visits" of Secretaries Mellon and Stimson undoubtedly are timely in affording an opportunity for an explanation of the American viewpoint before the matter is gone into by the European foreign ministers.

At the foreign office much gratification was expressed that the British officials will repay at this early date the recent visit of Chancellor Heinrich Brüning and Foreign Minister Curtius to Chequers. In some circles it had not been expected that MacDonald and Henderson would reach Berlin until the autumn.

It was stressed, however, that the public must be guarded against expecting too much from the visit of the Englishmen. Nonetheless Minister Brüning's conferences are considered significant in that they will offer an opportunity to continue the frank friendly discussions which were started two weeks ago at Chequers.

The conferees are expected to be equally untrammelled and it is anticipated that they will study all questions vitally concerning the relations

Ben Bernie Is Sued For Dancehall Blow

MONROE, Mich., June 18.—(AP)—Accused hitting Clarence Kirk, a dance hall proprietor, with a music rack, Ben Bernie, dance orchestra conductor, today was named defendant in a $5,000 damage suit.

Kirk said in his petition that Bernie stopped playing a half hour earlier than scheduled and struck him when he remonstrated.

"But I didn't hit him with a music rack," the deputy who served the papers quoted Bernie. "I punched him in the jaw with my fist."

POPE PIUS, MUSSOLINI. FAST NEARING ACCORD

BY JOHN EVANS.

ROME, June 18.—(AP)—Pope Pius and Premier Mussolini are moderating their restrictive measures while diplomats carry on negotiations looking toward the restoration of accord between them.

The pope today lifted his prohibition on church processions, Mussolini is continuing to permit the reopening of some of the clubs for Catholic laymen which he closed.

The papal order restoring the processions applied first to the archdiocese of Naples, presumably because much feeling has been aroused in that region by the absence of this picturesque feature of ecclesiastical activity. The order is expected shortly to be extended to other dioceses.

Coinciding with the pope's action came a charge by the newspaper Osservatore Romano, Vatican organ, that fascists have generated anti-church demonstrations on the part of both fascists and supposed Catholics.

Von Herrmann Sees More Fair Weather

Another day of fair, warm weather was forecast Thursday by C. F. von Herrmann, United States meteorologist.

Mr. von Herrmann has expressed the belief that Atlanta will receive additional thundershowers later in the week, but in the meantime today will be fairly lacking in rainfall that would help crops, according to the weather man.

Temperatures today probably will range from 70 to 93 degrees, as compared with a minimum of 67 degrees and a maximum in the early 90's Thursday.

Of Great Britain, Germany and the rest of Europe—particularly the grave economic situation and the matter of reparations.

The British cabinet ministers are scheduled to arrive on July 17, which is a Friday, and will remain until Monday, when they will be hailed here as signaling the end of "American passivity" in the international task of unravelling the reparations tangle.

Meanwhile the appearance of Andrew W. Mellon, United States secretary of the treasury, in London, and his conversations with Mr. MacDonald and Montagu Norman, governor of the Bank of England, were hailed here as signalling the end of "American passivity" in the international task of unravelling the reparations tangle.

BALDWIN SEES INCREASE OF BRITISH UNEMPLOYED

LONDON, June 18.—(AP)—Former Premier Stanley Baldwin, conservative leader, declared in a speech at Maitland house tonight that he believed a general election in Great Britain could not be long delayed.

"When an election comes," he said, "it will probably come suddenly. It may well be that at a moment when we least expect it we shall be entering the big fight."

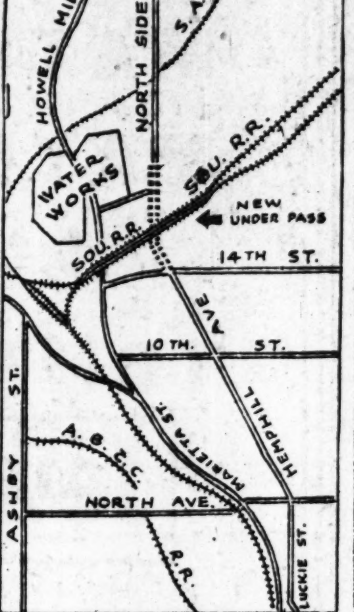

Baldwin prophesied there would be 3,000,000 unemployed in Britain before Christmas. He said that the tariff was the only effective weapon to "preserve the work of England for Englishmen."

COUNTY MOVES FOR UNDERPASS

Willing To Share Cost of Northside Project With City and Railroad.

Action looking toward construction of the proposed North Side drive underpass at the Southern Railway crossing was initiated Thursday by the Fulton county commission in requesting the city of Atlanta and the railroad company each to pay a third of the cost of the project.

Under a resolution introduced by Commissioner Walter B. Stewart, the clerk of the board, Henry M. Wood, is to write the city and railroad and tender the county's request. The county would take care of the remaining third of the cost.

The above map shows the location of the proposed North Side drive underpass at the Southern Railway crossing. The construction would involve approaches from Fourteenth street to a point opposite the waterworks, and the underpass would lie partly in the city, the incorporated limits extending a short distance north of Fourteenth street.

The North Side drive underpass has been a subject of discussion for a long time, owing to the importance of the thoroughfare and the danger of the grade crossing. The drive leads from the heart of Atlanta through thickly populated sections into the northern section of the county, and affords an excellent artery of transportation to the Bobby Jones golf course and other points of interest on the North Side. It has been completed except for the underpass.

OFFICIALS SUSPEND 4 FLIERS' LICENSES

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 18.—(AP) Licenses of four Columbus aviators were temporarily suspended late today by Department of Commerce Aeronautics Inspector H. F. Rough, of Detroit, in connection with the flight of airplanes last Tuesday during the Harding memorial dedication at Marion, Ohio. It was claimed the flight interfered with the addresses.

The aviators are Harold Dickhorst, John Corrodi and Joseph Mackey, of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, and Grant Melvin, a private pilot. Curtiss-Wright officials here said, however, by telephone from Washington.

The flying service said Inspector Rough previously had said he saw no violation of flying rules by any of the four pilots during the addresses of President Hoover and other speakers at the memorial.

Scientists Amazed By Reputed Power Of Roentgen Tube

PASADENA, Cal., June 18.—(AP)—American scientists meeting here were astounded today by the reading of a report from Berlin describing the development of an X-ray tube capable of producing Gamma rays equal to 100,000 grams of radium—more than all the radium in use in the world.

The report, presented to the American Association for the Advancement of Science, was prepared by Dr. F. Lange and A. Brach, of the University of Berlin.

Build of paper, rubber and aluminum, the tube used in the experiment revealed in the report, is only three feet long. It operates at 2,000,000 volts and it is estimated that similar ones can be built up to 7,000,000 volts.

Most fundamental principles of constructing X-ray tubes are done away with in the experiment reported by Lange and Brach.

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(AP) The Portland (Me.) Men's Singing Club, of 40 members, tonight serenaded Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Philadelphia publisher, who celebrated his 51st birthday quietly today. The club sang some of his favorite numbers as he sat at a family dinner in the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward W. Bok, of Merion.

PACIFIC GAMING SHIPS CALLED SHIPPING PERIL

LONG BRANCH, Cal., June 18.—(AP)—Several gambling ships operating offshore here are termed menaces to navigation in a telegram sent to President Hoover by the Long Beach Ministerial Association, which asks that federal steps be taken against them.

"The gambling ships operating off the coast," the message said, "are a rendezvous for gangsters, gamblers and other law-defying persons. Business interests here are suffering from this incursion."

The purpose, sponsors said today, is to provide realism for the twentieth annual southwest Washington pioneer picnic on the latter date.

MELLONS AID BUILDING OF PLANT IN SIBERIA

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—The Evening Post says it has learned that Richard B. Mellon, brother of Andrew B. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and Richard K. Mellon, the secretary's nephew, are directors of the Koppers Company of Delaware. Koppers is the holding company controlling the Koppers Company of Pittsburgh, which has a contract for the design and building of the coke ovens of the huge steel plant now building under the five-year-plan at Magnitogorsk, Siberia.

The Magnitogorsk plant is designed to be the third largest steel plant in the world at an estimated expenditure of $200,000,000. The Post says cash to cover all contracts has been deposited in the Chase National Bank.

He gave the gun and ten cartridges to one of the group and asked

FORD DEMANDS PROBE OF CITY CHARITY WORK

Motor Company Accuses Mayor of "Red Herring" Tactics.

DETROIT, June 18.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company today demanded a grand jury investigation of Detroit's $1,500,000 monthly municipal dole disbursements, charged the department of public welfare with negligence and accused Mayor Frank Murphy with trying to "draw a red herring across the trail."

These demands and charges were contained in a letter sent to Thomas E. Dolan, superintendent of the city welfare department. The letter was in reply to one Superintendent Dolan sent Edsel Ford Tuesday requesting that the Ford company assume the care of the families of 3,200 former Ford workers now drawing municipal doles.

The interchange of letters between the city and the Ford company began after Alex F. Lewis and Charles J. McCormick, former welfare clerks, were arrested on charges of stealing $208,000 from the department. Bennett charged that the city has been paying doles to hundreds of men who were actually at work at the Ford factory at the time. He also said that the Ford company cares for its own welfare cases. The latter statement resulted in Superintendent Dolan's letter to Edsel Ford.

Foreign Legion Starts Search For Woman Said To Be in Ranks

SIDI BEL ABBES, Algeria, June 18.—(UP)—The Foreign Legion has begun a systematic search to determine the truth of a report which has circulated persistently to the effect that there is a woman masquerading as a man in the ranks of France's "hard-boiled" army.

The Legion officers have been forced to take cognizance of the report, chiefly because it has happened in the past that women actually have been found masquerading among the desert soldiers.

Each squad of the Legion was ordered to the showers for inspection and the program will be continued until it is determined if the report is true.

Despite the vigilance of medical examiners, the Legion records show that a woman enlisted and fought against the Moors for six months in 1908. She was the twin sister of a German boy who ran away from home to join the Legion. The girl so admired her brother that she dressed as a boy and followed him.

They resembled each other and the boy was able to take the medical examination for both. Once within the ranks the girl underwent terrific hardships in the Sahara, often falling out of ranks. It was six months, however, before a situation arose when her brother could not aid her in carrying out the duplicity. She was ordered to the showers when he was away and she confessed to the officers that she was a woman.

MITCHELL MINIMIZES U. S. DRIVE ON GANGS

Attorney-General Reveals There Will Be No General Campaign.

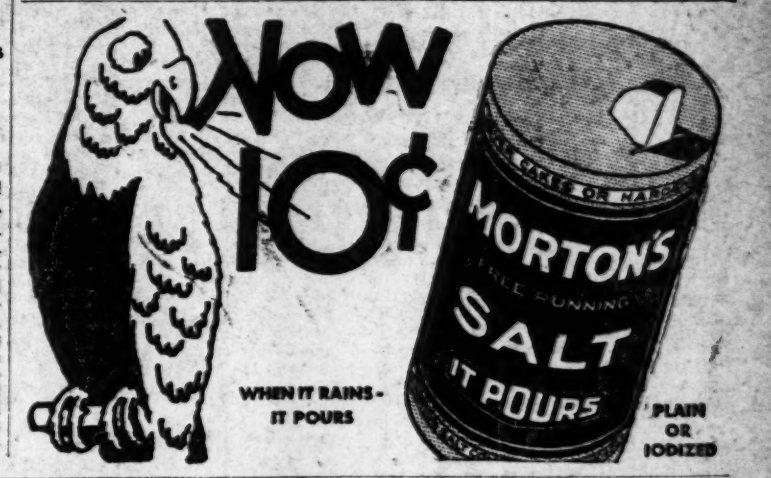

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UP) Attorney-General William D. Mitchell disclaimed today any intention of the federal government to conduct a campaign against gangsters and racketeers generally throughout the country on the scale of that in Chicago and the major offensive which has opened in earnest now in New York city.

He revealed that federal agents have not yet finished their work in Chicago, though Al Capone and members of his gang have been rounded up, and a "clean-up" campaign will be carried on in the Illinois city incidentally with opening of the campaign in New York city.

Atlanta Store's Policies Cited as Prosperity Aid

Davison-Paxon and Macy Lead Nation in Advertising Series Showing Steady Gain in Business

NEW YORK, June 18.—Tremendous stimulus has been given to general business throughout the country by the advertising policy of the Davison-Paxon Company and R. H. Macy & Co., affiliates, Louis E. Schechter, of Hocht Brothers, Baltimore, told the Advertising Federation of America at Wednesday's forum of the twenty-seventh annual convention of the organization. More than 300 executives of the leading department stores of America attended the forum.

More than 150 stores throughout the nation have followed the lead of the Davison-Paxon and Macy enterprises. Mr. Schechter declared, and the psychological effect is being evidenced by the increased volume of sales. Coincident with his address, samples of advertising were exhibited from various sections of the country demonstrating the nationwide spread of the psychology behind the June drive of the Davison-Paxon and Macy affiliates. In many instances the exact thought was given virtually identical expression.

In addition to reports already made of the clearing of shelves and reordering of goods from manufacturers in many parts of the country, the forum heard new statistics from J. M. Armstrong, district sales manager of the Buffalo territory for Sears, Roebuck & Co., a section that had not previously reported. He said that an eight-day adaptation of the anti-depression drive had been made, resulting in a 33.1-3 per cent increase over sales for June, 1930.

The end of the business depression is in sight, Daniel Bloomfield, of the Boston Retail Trade Board, declared in the final address of the forum program.

"The stroke required courage," he said, "but it has brought important results and is helping to bring an early end to the depression period."

"Merchants may prove to be among the very first to sell the country to itself again. Anything which reduces the balance of postponed buying, such as department store advertising, tells the facts, as this courageous campaign has done, is a help to every employer in the factories as well as in the shops of the nation."

A summary of the anti-depression campaign and its results was given by the convention by Kenneth Collins, publicity director of R. H. Macy & Co.

"The affiliation of stores with which I am associated," he said, "the great Gimbel chain, Bloomingdale's, Horne's, Arnold, Constable, Wanamaker's, Rusek's, Oppenheim, Collins, Gilchrist's in Boston, Frank & Selzer in Detroit, the number of stores is endless, have all embarked on a series of merchandise presentations in which plain facts have been told."

"The public, suddenly recognizing that at no time in the past 10 years could they so advantageously buy the things they want, have responded generously. Astonishing as it may seem, the Macy affiliation of stores, widely separated geographically, has registered a very large dollar increase in sales during these past two weeks with an almost incredible increase in the number of transactions. At Macy's alone the number of transactions has been 42 per cent ahead of those in the corresponding week last year.

"And let me take my hat off to the housewives of America. While the economists and bankers and supposed great industrial leaders have wrangled and talked and theorized and wondered where the bottom was, the women of America have sensed that this probably is the bottom. They have stepped in and in an unprecedented way and their spending of money has moved huge quantities of goods and has forced the reordering of the leading department stores of replacement articles."

EMPLOYING MORE PEOPLE.
DAVISON'S OFFICIAL SAYS

Commenting on the New York dispatch with reference to the drive for prosperous business launched by the Davison-Paxon Company and shared in by the Macy affiliated stores, Lloyd A. Wilhoit, advertising manager of Davison's, said: "As this store's contribution to good business, we are now employing more people than ever before in the history of this store at this season of the year, and are paying them bigger salaries than we have ever paid at this time of the year."

"We are not alone in our advertising appearing recently, this store is showing a tremendous increase in the number of customers we are waiting on, and our sales in dollars and cents are considerably ahead of this same time last year or any other year."

BIRTH CONTROL ISSUE DEBATED BY LEAGUE

MINNEAPOLIS, June 18.—(AP)—George Packard, Chicago attorney, told the American Birth Control league today that "it will be a long time before legislation is enacted authorizing your program."

Present laws on the subject were "biased, illogical and absurd," he said, contending that in the humanitarian relation between physician and patient "the physician has the right to prescribe contraception for the needs of his patient."

Dean E. H. Lyon, of the University of Minnesota Medical school, said birth control should be studied at a conference of experts as a factor related to heredity.

Rev. David Bryn-Jones, Minneapolis, Baptist clergyman, declared that human progress was continuous interference with nature and that birth control held great possibilities of human progress. He said it was morally justified.

ATLANTAN IS NAMED TO AD DIRECTORATE

Federation Closes Four-Day Session With Discussion of Economic Issues.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(AP)—The Advertising Federation of America closed its four-day session today by re-electing Gilbert T. Hodges, of New York, to the presidency and expounding its collective views on the economic situation which it believes it can help improve.

The federation adopted resolutions advising business it cannot realize its full development except through the widest possible distribution among the creators of wealth of an equitable share of the profits of production.

Members of the federation expressed belief that by establishing confidence in the future, and by skilful advertising, the latent buying power among the gainfully employed can be aroused so that they will purchase more goods and contribute to business recovery.

Three vacancies on the board of directors were filled by the election of G. D. Schaeffer, Chicago; Turner Jones, Atlanta, and Frank G. Huntress, San Antonio.

Invitations were extended to the federation to meet next year in Havana, Cuba; Columbus, Ohio, and Miami, Fla. They were taken under advisement by the board of directors.

SHRINE WILL CONDUCT BIG CEREMONIAL TODAY

Nobles of Yaarab temple, together with potentates and delegations from other southern temples, will assemble in Yaarab temple's mosque this afternoon at 4 o'clock to hold a ceremonial session, at which a large number of unregenerate sons of the desert will cross the hot sands to the Holy City of Mecca where they will be constituted nobles of the Mystic Shrine.

This will be one of the days when the temple takes over the entire mosque for Shrine purposes, and the candidates will report to Recorder Argard at 3:15 p. m. At 4 p. m. the first and third sections of the ritual will be conferred by illustrious Potentate Richard N. Fickett Jr. and the divan of Yaarab temple in the main auditorium of the mosque. At 6 p. m. a buffet lunch will be served in the banquet hall to the entire nobility.

The second section will be held in the main auditorium beginning at 1 o'clock, the opening feature of which will be a spectacular entrance of the uniformed organizations, escorting the illustrious potentate and divan. Following this Yaarab's patrol will give an exhibition drill at the close of which the novices will start on a two-hour journey across the hot sands.

From 9 to 12 o'clock an informal dance will be given in the Egyptian ballroom of the mosque in honor of Potentate Fickett, visiting potentates and their ladies.

At 8:30 Thursday night, June 25, Yaarab patrol will sponsor a public performance of musical selections, many of them of dancing and artistic novelties, for which elaborate preparations have been made. Tickets for this entertainment, which will take place in the Egyptian ballroom of the mosque, may be secured at Jacobs pharmacy in the First National bank building, at the mosque, Fuller Soda Company in the City building, and Cable Piano Company.

'GIRL MARKET' TRIAL ENDED BY DEADLOCK

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 18.—(P)—The jury in the "girl market" case disagreed after 24 hours of deliberation as to the guilt or innocence of Alexander Pantages, wealthy showman, and his three co-defendants, and was dismissed at noon today.

F. W. Ahern, one of the jurors, said the jury swung yesterday from 8 to 4 for acquittal on both counts to 10 to 2 for acquittal, but today the voting had been 9 to 3 for acquittal. He said the three women jurors had voted for acquittal on both counts throughout.

Pantages was accused of conspiring with Jesse H. Shivers, wealthy businessman, and Olive Clark Day and William Jobelmann, alleged operators of a Hollywood "girl market," to bring Lydia Nitro, a minor, to a hotel here for immoral purposes last October 30.

JEWS OF ATLANTA TO AID HOSPITAL

Miss Rae Peyser, field secretary of the National Jewish Hospital in Denver, has arrived to launch the annual roll call of Atlanta contributors. Local directors of the hospital board who will assist Miss Peyser include Julian Boehm, Hyman Jacobs and E. Tourial. The hospital has been maintained for more than 30 years for tubercular patients with the rule "None may enter who can pay—none can pay who enter," Miss Peyser stated.

Although founded and administered by Jews of America, the hospital always has been non-sectarian in service, no restrictions being imposed on patients because of race or creed. More than 20 per cent of the patients now in the institution are non-Jewish, Miss Peyser said. Three Atlantans are among the present patients.

The field secretary will be in this city several weeks, making her headquarters at the Henry Grady hotel.

TWO GIRLS AND MAN ARRESTED IN PROBE

Two young girls and a man were being held by police Thursday night in connection with the stolen automobile in which they were arrested early Thursday morning, while a second man, a member of the party when taken in custody, was released.

The girls gave their names as Flo Walser and Alice Sampson, both 17, of Olney, Ill. They were en route to St. Petersburg to join a show troupe, according to Detectives J. A. McKibben and E. D. Meek, who questioned them. They had hitch-hiked to Atlanta on 57 and were offered a lift to Florida from Atlanta by Bill Cain, 703 Myrtle street, and J. L. Crews, of Carrollton, they said.

When arrested Alice was in the alleged stolen car with the two boys, and she took the officers to a North Boulevard apartment where Flo had found refuge. Cain was released Thursday afternoon, but Crews was held as it was said by the officers that he is already under indictment for auto theft and has served time on another auto theft charge. The girls were being held pending instructions from their parents.

PRODUCTS EXHIBIT OPENS AT MARKET

The Georgia Products Festival, held at the new municipal market, on Edgewood avenue, under the auspices of the Woman's Club was attended Thursday night by large crowds.

Acting Mayor Millican said that the market had cost $150,000 and would be paid within 10 years, after which time it would belong to the city of Atlanta. Eugene Talmadge, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, then asked patronage for the market, and the farmers to bring their produce there. He said that a reputation could be made in a very short time by the produce of good produce at a reasonable price, attractively displayed.

VERA CRUZ LIMITS NUMBER OF PRIESTS

MEXICO CITY, June 18.—(P)—The state of Vera Cruz today put into effect a law which was adopted last night to restrict the number of priests to one of each 100,000 inhabitants.

Archbishop Leopoldo Ruiz y Flores, papal nuncio, immediately announced that he would refuse to name 11 priests allowed to officiate in Vera Cruz under the measure. He added that the priests had been ordered to remain at their churches and continue services, despite the new bill, which was published in the official gazette today.

He said enforcement of the law would mean the "virtual closing of churches in Vera Cruz, so far as priests are concerned."

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands of sufferers from itching, bleeding or protruding piles have learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor cutting remove the cause.

Bad circulation of the blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The veins are flabby, the bowel walls weaken, the parts almost dead. To end Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was the first to discover a real internal Pile remedy. He called his prescription HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1,000 patients with the marvelous record of success in 980 cases, and then decided every Pile sufferer should be able to get HEM-ROID tablets from their own druggists with a rigid money-back guarantee.

Dr. Leonhardt's prescription has a wonderful record of success right in this city and Jacobs Drug Stores invites every Pile sufferer to try a bottle of HEM-ROID and guarantee to refund the purchase price if they do not end Piles in any form.—(adv.)

GOUGH HOODLUM FACES 3 CHARGES

Gangster's Follower
Shot by Detective When Latter Draws Gun.

NEW YORK, June 18.—(P)—Arthur Flegenheimer, known in gangland, where he is recognized as a big shot in the beer business, as "Dutch Schultz," learned today that what he termed a mistake was destined to cause him much trouble and inconvenience.

Schultz, taken from his spacious Fifth Avenue apartment where he had been living under assumed respectability, was a prisoner in the West Side jail, unable to furnish $150,000 bail fixed by Magistrate Burke as the price of his temporary freedom.

He is held on three charges—acting in concert in felonious assault, and two counts of violating the Sullivan anti-firearms law. He was carrying a .38-caliber automatic pistol when arrested.

The gangster said a case of mistaken identity led to his present plight and the shooting of one of his hoodlum followers, Daniel Amario, who died tonight in a hospital from a wound in the abdomen. Amario was shot when he drew his revolver when he, Schultz, and three other gangsters were approached by two detectives as they stood outside the beer runner's apartment. Schultz said he mistook them for enemy gangsters.

Police questioned Schultz but were unable to ascertain the identity of the three gangsters who escaped by leaping over a low wall of Central park. Losing his bravado before his police interrogators, Schultz did not regain composure until given a sedative by a physician summoned to attend him. Schultz faced the prospect of being questioned also by federal authorities in their concerted drive to rid the country of gangsters. Police said his arrest might lead to the new developments in a gun fight in the Club Abbey last April, of which Schultz denied all knowledge at the time. Today he told police he was wounded three times and that two other bullets struck his bullet-proof vest.

MRS. JOHN HAMMOND DIES IN WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—Mrs. John Hays Hammond, wife of the noted engineer, died here early today after an illness of several weeks.

With the exception of Richard P. Hammond, who is in Paris, all of her four children, John Hays Jr., Harris and Natalie Hays were at her bedside at their home on fashionable Kalorama road. Mr. Hammond, her 76-year-old husband, and her sister, Mrs. Charles Hoyle, of Washington, were her constant attendants.

Mrs. Hammond was the former Miss Natalie Harris, daughter of the late Senator Nathaniel Harris, of Natchez, Miss., where she was born. She married Mr. Hammond in 1880, and traveled with the celebrated engineer throughout the world. She was with her husband during the crisis in South Africa, where he was sentenced to

NEW ORLEANS, June 18.—(P)—The Orleans parish grand jury which recently requested data on the investment of city trust funds, today summoned Acting Mayor A. Miles Pratt and other city officials to appear for questioning.

District Attorney Eugene Stanley went before the jury with previously published statements from Acting Mayor Pratt dealing with the status of the trust funds. Mr. Pratt's statements showed that the funds since 1926 had been converted from government bonds to industrial securities. He said their value had increased.

Mr. Pratt, commissioner of finance, has been acting head of the city government for the past several weeks while Mayor T. Semmes Walmesley was in France with the American mayors' party.

HOOVER CHEERFUL AS LONG TOUR ENDS

President Returns to Desk Optimistic Over
Conditions Abroad.

BY FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON.
WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—President Hoover came back to the White House tonight cheerful and optimistic over the conditions he observed on his four days' tour of the central states.

His views were expressed informally to members of the party as the special train traveled through fields of ripening harvests in crossing West Virginia and Virginia today.

The prospects for bumper crops visible throughout the trip apparently contributed to the hopes entertained by the president. Today's route led across a stretch of last year's drought belt.

Reaching the capital from Springfield, Ill., at 3:25 p. m., Mr. and Mrs. Hoover motored to the White House and a few minutes later the president was at his desk putting in some work on the accumulation of mail that had piled up since his departure Sunday night.

The president came back to Washington determined to stand on the policies he outlined in his speeches in the middle west and he made it clear he planned no other extended trips away from the capital.

Some concern was expressed in the presidential party that the trip was being interpreted as a political one and it was stated on the president's behalf that he regarded himself as president of all the people and not just of republicans.

PRESIDENTIAL STATEMENT IS QUESTIONED BY WALSH
WASHINGTON, June 18.—(P)—Pointed questions as to President Hoover's knowledge of Warren G. Harding's "dim realization" that some of his trusted friends had betrayed him, have been directed at the chief executive by Senator Walsh, of Montana.

Walsh was the democratic prosecutor in the senate investigation that disclosed the Teapot Dome and Elk Hills oil lease scandals of the Harding administration, in which Hoover was secretary of commerce.

In a statement through the democratic national committee, Walsh said:

"That was an interesting bit of history introduced Tuesday by President Hoover into his speech at Marion, Ohio, namely that the realization by President Harding that he had been betrayed by a few of the men whom he had trusted, was a contributing cause of his death."

Walsh asked if Harding "had such knowledge why did he not peremptorily dismiss them from the public service and cause to be instituted those prosecutions to which they later became subject?"

"Was the president's information," he continued, "that Harding had a 'dim realization' of the fact that he, and, of course, the country as well, had been betrayed acquired before or after the death of Harding? If after, who was his informant and, if before, why did he remain inactive, being one of the constitutional advisers of the president?"

MRS. FALL REVEALS
MRS. HARDING'S FRIENDSHIP
EL PASO, Texas, June 18.—(P)—After reading President Hoover's address at Marion, Ohio, and newspaper comments upon it, Mrs. A. E. Fall today made public certain correspondence exchange between her and Mrs. Warren G. Harding.

In his address, Mr. Hoover said President Harding "had a dim realization that he had been betrayed by a few of the men whom he trusted."

Mrs. Fall recalled that after President Harding's death in San Francisco and burial in Marion, Mrs. Harding returned to Washington and through a friend invited Mrs. Fall and Mr. Fall to lunch and to spend the afternoon with her.

"On that day, Mrs. Harding told Mr. Fall and myself repeatedly how often the president had said on his western trip that he had been betrayed by a few of the men whom he trusted," Mrs. Fall said.

She quoted Mrs. Harding as saying Fall was one of his closest friends and he knew that on Mr. Fall's return from abroad he would receive accurate information as to the Russian situation.

Fall was in London at the time of the president's death and returned to this city immediately when he learned of it.

"It has always been understood generally in Washington," said Mrs. Fall, "that Mr. Harding took his wife into his closest confidence and any reaction in his mind would have been known to her."

FREIGHT SHIPS TO LINK BATON ROUGE, ATLANTIC

BATON ROUGE, La., June 18.—(P)—Steamship freight service with regular sailings will be established between Baton Rouge and Atlantic coast ports with direct connections to Europe, A. V. Moore, president of Moore & McCormack, Inc., operators of the Mooremack Gulf Coast lines, today announced.

Numerous ships have tied up at the municipal docks in the past, but this city has had no service as described by Mr. Moore.

Ships will leave Boston and Philadelphia each two weeks for Baton Rouge and will leave here each two weeks for Tampa, Fla., Philadelphia and Boston.

The first ship will leave Philadelphia for Baton Rouge September 5. Sailings may be placed on a weekly basis, if business warrants, it was said.

Award Contested

Anna Lee Patterson, of Ludlow, Ky., 18 years old, and blonde, was chosen "Miss United States" in the twelfth annual international beauty pageant at Galveston, Texas, the night of June 15. Governor Flem Sampson, of Kentucky, the winner confided, had promised to make her an honorary colonel if she achieved the greatest success among the blue grass contingent. She did that.

DALLAS, Texas, June 19.—(P)—Colonel William E. Easterwood, of Dallas, announced today he would contest the award of "Miss United States" to Miss Anna Lee Patterson, representing northern Kentucky, made at the international beauty pageant last Monday in Galveston.

The Dallas aviation enthusiast made it clear he had no animosity toward "Miss United States," but believed the nine Texas girls entered had been done an injustice.

He said the judges' decision would be contested on the grounds that they had been instructed not to pick a Texas girl because it might result in Galveston losing the pageant.

The decision of the judges will be contested, first, on the fact that the judges were instructed against a Texas girl; secondly, that all the entrants received letters advising them not to use cosmetics, and that violation of this rule was permitted only by the winner, and that "Miss Northern Kentucky" was disqualified by reason of the fact she has been in commercial movies in Cincinnati.

STATE WOULD DENY
BAIL FOR WOMAN
MOBILE, Ala., June 18.—(P)—Solicitor Bart B. Chamberlain said today that any attempt on the part of Mrs. Willie Mae Clauson to obtain her freedom on bail at her arraignment in police court here Tuesday on charges of murdering Foster K. Hale Jr., prominent attorney and sportsman, will meet vigorous opposition.

"The state contends," declared the solicitor, "that Mrs. Clauson, with malice aforethought, procured a revolver from her room in a hotel, walked to the attorney's office and there shot him to death."

Mrs. Clauson was greatly displeased with photographs of her printed in Wednesday's papers. She told newspapermen she would like another photograph printed.

Woman Dead or Alive
Is Puzzle to Physicians
VANCOUVER, B. C., June 18.—(P)—Physicians here are puzzled as to whether Mrs. T. E. Marshall, who has been in a hospital since Monday, is dead or alive.

On Monday evening she called at a doctor's office and collapsed. She has been in a state of coma or dead since then. Physicians have so far been unable to agree which.

THREE DEATHS PUZZLE TAMPA AUTHORITIES

Three Bodies Found Near Huge Liquor
Cache.

TAMPA, Fla., June 18.—(P)—State's Attorney C. B. Parkhill today ordered an inquest into the deaths of three young Italians, whose bodies were found last night in the driveway of the home of Frank Napoli, in Ybor City, a Latin suburb.

The dead are:
Paul Antinori, 18; Nick Midulla, 25, and James Calenti, 23, all members of prominent families in Latin circles.

Antinori, who graduated from high school here only a few weeks ago, was the son of Vincent Antinori, secretary of the Italian club.

Parkhill said he would seek to determine the cause of death. Authorities said they found several thousands of dollars' worth of liquor in an underground vault beneath the Napoli garage.

Police said neither Deicide nor Frank Napoli, at whose home the bodies were found, had been located today.

Officers said they believed the trio had gone to Napoli's garage seeking refreshments and overcome by gas or fumes, were lifted out of the place by comrades and placed in the driveway.

INSTALLMENT XXXII

"It is no secret that we have excellent connections abroad," he said. "It stands to reason that in the event of an amalgamation we should do everything in our power to open up a bigger foreign market for your products, too."

"Are there any circumstances that would enable you to give this assurance a more definite form?" asked Dr. Waitz from lower down the table.

"Can you tell me what circumstances you mean?" he answered with his pitiful habit of asking what he knew already.

Schweimann, who sat opposite him, had not so far opened his large flexible ape's mouth. He opened it now.

"The reference is to the proposed understanding with Burleigh & Son," he said without more ado. Gerstenkorn held a long cigar ash trembling on the end of his cigar in the keenest suspense.

"Unfortunately I am not in a position to make any statement on that question," Preysing answered at last. He had prepared this reply long before and learned it by heart.

"Pity," said old Gerstenkorn. Whereupon there was a general silence lasting several minutes.

Preysing's brain worked feverishly during these seconds. He did not know whether Zinnowitz had shown those famous copies of the letter to anybody entirely meaningless and unjustifiable—to the Chemnitz people.

Once again he had that uneasy and uncomfortable feeling. He began to feel his eyes he threw his legal adviser a questioning and imploring glance.

"Gentlemen," said Zinnowitz, standing up. "I deal with facts, not with rumors. It is no more than a stock exchange rumor that we mediated a business arrangement with Burleigh & Son."

"You can't take in an old stagger like me with a tale like that. We all know what a serious agreement is worth," Gerstenkorn threw in.

Schweimann perked up. Preysing began to lose his temper.

"I refuse," he shouted. "I refuse to have this affair with England mixed up with the business before us. I am not going to reckon with castles in the air. I have never reckoned with a business like ours it is not necessary. I reckon with facts, with actualities, with figures. Our balance—here it is."

He held up the flat of his hand on the file of papers before him. "This is what counts and nothing else has got to count."

"Herr Generaldirektor Preysing is conscientious to an exemplary degree," Justizrat Zinnowitz said. "I don't know whether his sense of duty allows him to bring this matter to the attention of the scales, even though it is not in black and white?"

"Why? Because I could not answer for it," interrupted Preysing.

"Our friend, Preysing," the Justizrat went on, "perhaps carries his scruples too far. His company is said to be on the point of concluding a very favorable agreement with the excellent old firm of Burleigh & Son. And what has Preysing to say to it?"

He resists the temptation to say that he is being called a bankrupt. Granted that it is actually no more than a rumor—all the same, there is no smoke without fire without we all know. And an old businesslike Kommerzienrat Gerstenkorn will agree that some rumors are worth more than many a signed agreement.

But as legal adviser for many years past to the Friedersdorf business, I may be permitted to say that the rumor forebodes perfectly definite arrangements. You must forgive me, my dear Preysing, if I don't maintain the same inflexible discretion as yourself. There is no object in denying that negotiations of a far-reaching kind have already proceeded a long way. In my opinion, it reflects the highest credit upon Herr Preysing that in this quixotic fashion he refuses to throw this affair into the scales as an asset of his company. Nothing could be more straightforward and gentlemanly. But it gets us no further. So you will pardon me if I take these gentlemen into our confidence in this matter."

Zinnowitz floundered on with his conciliatory discourse. Preysing had gone pale. So, thought he, Zinnowitz has shown them the letters. Good God, but that's awfully. It is not far from actual fraud. "Negotiations finally broken off. Brosemann," he thought, and he saw the blue-black and blurred writing of the telegram.

Gerstenkorn broke in roughly: "There's no object in our legal friend talking himself hoarse," he said, leaning over the table. "Before we say any more, I must ask Herr Preysing to tell us plainly how far the negotiations with Burleigh & Son have come."

"I refuse," said Preysing. "I must insist on it, if I am to continue the discussion," said Gerstenkorn.

"Then," said Preysing. "I beg you in any further discussion to regard that matter as non-existent."

"Am I to conclude then that all prospects of an agreement with Burleigh & Son are over?" asked Gerstenkorn.

"I conclude what you like," said Preysing.

"Then I suppose there's nothing further to be said for the present," Gerstenkorn said finally. "I suppose we may as well conclude our little discussion. We can always continue it in writing."

He got up, and his chair made a noise in the thick pile carpet of his very handsome conference chamber. Preysing, however, kept his seat. He took out a cigar with elaborate care, and with elaborate care cut off the end; then he lit it, took a puff, and began to smoke with an abstracted and deeply meditative expression on his face. His cheeks were speckled with tiny red veins.

There is no doubt that General Direktor Preysing was a thoroughly respectable man, a man of principle, a good husband and father, a man who stood for organization and order and the strongholds of convention. His life went by program. It lay open to inspection like a map, and the sight of it could not fail to please. It was a life of card indexes, of red tape, of many pigeon holes and much hard work. He had never yet committed the least irregularity. Never, there must have been a bad spot in him somewhere, a minute nucleus of moral disease which was destined to gain on him and bring him low. Yes, there must, in spite of all, have been just the merest trace of some inflammation, some microscopic speck on the irreproachable purity of his moral waistcoat.

He uttered no cry for help at this fatal moment, when the conference was broken off, though his plight was bad enough now. He had a cry for help and succor. He stood up, gripping his cigar between his teeth, as he felt for something in his waistcoat pocket with a sensation of complete drunkenness.

"Pity," he said casually, amazed at the careless tone of his voice, as it issued from his mouth past his cigar.

"Great pity. What is the end of that? And now that you have broken off, I don't mind telling you that through the agreement with Burleigh & Son last night, I got the news early this morning."

He drew out his hand from beneath his coat, and in it was the folded telegram: "Negotiations finally broken off." A scene of childish and triumphant rejoicing over him as he stood there, after telling this thundering lie which bordered on downright fraud and with the telegram held in his grasp on the green table.

He did not even know whether he wished to bluff them or merely to make an effective exit out of the mess into which he had got himself. Schweimann, the less controlled of the two Chemnitz people, made an instinctive grab for the telegram. Preysing, very quickly and with an almost ironical smile, raised his hand from the table, unfolded the telegram, folded it up again and put it back into his pocket with a deliberate air.

Dr. Waitz, further down the table, looked foolish. Zinnowitz whistled. The one thin piping note came very oddly from his sinuous Chinese lips.

Gerstenkorn began to laugh and wheeze at once. "My good fellow," he coughed. "My good fellow! You're a deal smarter than you look. You're properly led us by the nose. Come on, now we must have another talk over this."

IT HAPPENED IN GEORGIA

Frank Irving, negro, died this morning at Albany. He was 96 years old and is survived by four sons, three daughters, 19 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren. He was a well-known figure in Albany and always pointed out that when he was born Andrew Jackson was president of the United States.

Cordell is anticipating a revival in the ancient and royal sport of horse racing. The old race track in that city has been reconditioned and present plans call for the inauguration of a series of summer race meets on July 4.

Tolls have been reduced on the Savannah-Altamaha bridge, connecting Appling and Tattnall counties. They are now 50 cents instead of $1.

The courthouse park pump, at Waycross, an ancient Way county landmark, has been modernized. An automatic electric pump has been installed which, according to the Waycross Georgian, is turned on when the spigot is pressed. The pump has a capacity of 210 gallons an hour and a five-gallon reservoir.

All Sandersville business houses are now closing every day between 10 and 11 a. m. The reason is that the Rev. Bob Jones is holding a revival, with daily services at that hour, in a recently erected tabernacle there.

Confessed Killer Says Another Forced Him To Strangle Wife

VALDOSTA, Ga., June 18.—Four persons are now under arrest in connection with the death of Mrs. Maggie Ratliff in addition to Fred Ratliff, the husband. Ratliff, for several days stoutly denying that he knew anything about the murder, has made a "confession," a strange story of another man's peculiar power over the accused man.

The husband, accused by his daughter and son of being the murderer, admits that his hands choked his wife to death, says his hands were held on his wife's throat by Thomas O'Berry. In the rambling "confession" Ratliff says O'Berry made him do it. He says that he and O'Berry went to the house where Mrs. Ratliff was sleeping; then O'Berry picked him (Ratliff) up and put him on the porch and forced him into the bedroom.

He says that O'Berry pulled Mrs. Ratliff to the bed. He says O'Berry then took his (Ratliff's) hands, and clasped them around the woman's neck and choked her to death. He says that when his daughter came into the room with the lighted match O'Berry fled and that the girl did not see O'Berry, therefore she accused her father.

O'Berry is in jail as is also Mrs. Mattie Swann, although no information is obtainable as to the nature of the charges against her in connection with the crime.

Another warrant has been issued for Hays, although no information is obtainable as to the nature of the charges against him, though no details have been divulged as to the evidence.

Miss Louise Lumpkin Upon Weds Bradbury Foss at Ceremony in Athens

ATHENS, Ga., June 18.—Dignity and beauty marked the nuptials Thursday evening of Miss Louise Lumpkin Upon and Bradbury Foss, of Harrisburg, Pa., at the lovely colonial Upon home on Prince avenue, in the presence of a brilliant assemblage of Athens society and many distinguished out-of-town guests for the notable occasion centering statewide interest. The home was enhanced by the artistic decorations of gorgeous flowers and a greenery of delicate ferns. The spacious rooms drawing rooms, where the wedding party stood, was exquisite in glowing candles against a background of Woodwardia ferns which formed the improvised altar, against which great clusters of Madonna lilies were grouped, alternating with standards holding cathedral ivory tapers.

The hall, music room and dining room featured pastel shaded flowers in Dresden baskets and tall silver vases, against a delicate tracery of boiserie similes. The spacious and picturesque garden was like fairyland aglow with myriad electric lights, sparkling from the grand old magnolia trees. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Stephen S. Upon, and the beautiful ceremony pronounced by Dr. E. L. Hill, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Paul DeForest Hicks, of Pittsburgh, Pa., as matron of honor, and her younger sister, Miss Marie Upon, as bridesmaid. Little Miss Elizabeth Lumpkin, petite cousin of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, and carried the white satin pillow upon which rested the rings used in the double ring ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Hunter B. Hubbard at the piano, and Miss Minnie Collier, virtuoso, talented musician of Athens. The groom was attended by Lane Goss, of Worcester, Mass., and the other attendants, Nat. Hughes, of Springfield, Mass.; Paul Walker, of Chicago, all classmates of Mr. Foss at Dartmouth; also Paul DeForest Hicks, of Pittsburgh; J. Bailey Brandt, of Harrisburg, and Steven Lumpkin Upon, of Athens. The ushers were Joseph Henry Lumpkin, Bryan Lumpkin, Hubert Owens and Dr. Linton Gerdine.

Lovely Bride.
The bride was lovely in an exquisite gown, a Chanel model of ivory lace, with the soft tulle veil caught to a Juliet cap of real lace and orange blossoms and carried a white embossed prayer book.

Mrs. Hicks wore a Chanel model also of heavenly blue chiffon, and carried a bouquet of pastel shaded sweet peas.

Miss Upon wore a stylish model of golden beige chiffon, and carried the same delicate-hued flowers. Miss Elizabeth Lumpkin wore an old-fashioned dress of silver-green-chiffon, which was a reproduction of a dress belonging to her kinswoman, the late beloved Miss Mary Linton, and worn when she was a little girl. Her flowers were sweet peas of delicate pink in a shoulder bouquet.

Mrs. Upon, mother of the bride, wore a gown of golden beige lace, and Mrs. Foss, mother of the bride, wore a model of black and white with a touch of rose; their flowers were sweet peas and valley lilies.

Assisting in entertaining and receiving the several hundred guests were Misses Esther and Emily Upon, aunts of the bride, who presided with grace over this lovely home where the marriage took place; also Mrs. E. K. Lumpkin, grandmother of the bride, and other relatives assisted in the honors of the occasion. A reception followed on the terrace, where supper was served. The array of priceless gifts attested the popularity of the young couple and were among the most beautiful ever received in Athens. The marriage united two old and prominent families and will be long remembered as one of the outstanding social events in the social history of the south.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Upon and one of three charming sisters, all of whom have been among the most popular belles in college life. Among her forebears on her maternal side were Governor Wilson Lumpkin of Georgia, and Joseph Henry Lumpkin, the first chief justice of the supreme court of Georgia. Her father, Stephen S. Upon, is one of the prominent members of the Georgia bar. Her paternal great-grandfather was one of Georgia's leading lawyers during part of the last century.

Mr. Foss is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Earnest Foss, of Harrisburg, Pa., and comes from a long line of New England ancestors both on his maternal and paternal sides. He was educated at Dartmouth and Oxford. Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. George E. Foss, of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Lovely Bride.
The beautiful young bride was accompanied to the altar by her father, William A. Hansell, by whom she was given in marriage. She presented a radiant figure in her wedding gown of ivory moleskin satin, made in long graceful lines, moulded at the hip, lined and fitted closely her slender figure. The long, full ankle-length skirt of satin extended above the waist line in a deep point at the corner joining the yoke of ivory lace. The sleeves were of leg of mutton style and fashioned of lace and the skirt widened in the back to form the long satin train. The veil of tulle was caught to her dark brown hair with a cap of priceless lace, adorned by clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a real lace and linen handkerchief which had been carried by three generations of brides. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of gardenias and lilies of the valley. The bridegroom was attended by his brother, John Thomas Carlton, as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Hansell entertained at a brilliant reception at which they were assisted in receiving by the bride and bridegroom and Mrs. James E. Carlton, mother of the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Cole and Mr. Amall Wed at Ceremony in Newnan, Ga.

NEWNAN, Ga., June 18.—The marriage of Miss Susan Hunter Cole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Guy Cole, and Raleigh Amall was solemnized Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Ronald C. Young, pastor of the Central Baptist church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

An altar was formed of palms and ferns. Tall baskets filled with Easter lilies and seven-branched candelabra holding slender white tapers were effectively arranged on either side, making a beautiful setting for the ceremony. Mrs. E. S. Sims, pianist, and Miss Rosalyn Brown, violinist, rendered "Rhapsody of Love," "At Dawning," accompanied by Mrs. Sims. A note of sentiment was added to the fact that this musical program was used at the marriage ceremonies of the bride's mother and her sister, Mrs. Hamilton Amall.

The bride was attended by four dainty little flower girls, Misses Minerva Cole, sister of the bride; Katie Glenn Amall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Amall; Bessie Amall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Amall, of Atlanta; and Zoe Glover Drake, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Drake, of College Park. They were dressed alike in old-fashioned frocks of pink point d'esprit and carried old-fashioned nosegays of roses, daphnium and sweet peas. They all wore daisy strings of pearls, their gifts from the bride.

The lovely bride, entered with her uncle, Bryan Blackburn, by whom she was given in marriage to the groom, who met at the altar by the bridegroom and his brother, Hamilton Amall, who acted as best man.

The bride's gown of beauty was enhanced by her gown of white Chantilly lace made with classic simplicity, the long skirt falling in graceful folds to the floor. Her only ornament was a brooch of coral and old gold, an heirloom of her maternal grandmother. Her real lace handkerchief was carried by her sister and sister-in-law, the wedding and her flowers were a shower bouquet of Joanna Hill roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held. The bride's mother was crowned in flowered chiffon with a corsage of roses and orchids. The mother of the bride, Mrs. H. C. Amall Jr., wore an afternoon model of purple georgette with a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Hamilton Amall was crowned in blue and white chiffon with hat and shoes to match. Her flowers were pink roses and orchids. Miss Annie Cole, sister of the bride, wore a becoming model of blue chiffon with hat and accessories of blue. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink roses. Mrs. Bryan M. Blackburn wore a gown of white with hat and shoes of pink, her costume being completed by a shoulder bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley.

Prominent Families. Mrs. R. D. Cole, grandmother of the bride, wore a gown of black georgette relieved by touches of white. Her shoulder bouquet was of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Amall left for a motor trip through the mountains of North Carolina. The bride traveled in a smart ensemble of blue georgette with blue accessories and a corsage of orchids. She is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Cole, and grand-gin a series of jump fantastic bids motivated by a subconscious desire to circumvent partner's low intelligence and prevent him from interfering. Inasmuch as one partner usually holds the same opinion of our intellectual equipment, it goes double. As a matter of fact, the more our partner is supposedly stupid, the more it is imperative to bid as low as possible, thus leaving plenty of room to jump around and rectify in time his (or our) stupidity. With any partner the ideal bid is low, not high... and let nature take its course.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED. Mr. Culbertson will be glad to answer questions on bidding and play of hands sent in by readers. Address him in care of The Constitution, enclosing a two-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON, World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

That Panicky Feeling. In bridge as in life, we must constantly lean on our partners and be ready to help them. There are very few hands dealt ready made, so perfect that they can travel on their own legs, so to speak, and a player may dispense with the necessity of finding a bid that best fits in with partner's type of hand.

In fact, even with very strong hands few will score game without favorable trump distribution or about 1-2-2 honor tricks in partner's hand. As a rule, therefore, a one bid, especially in a suit, will not miss game even with quite strong hands. Partner (or opponents) will either show some sign of life, for he must respond with as little as 1-2-2 honor-tricks, or when distribution is favorable, with less. If partner passes, one is usually the best bid.

Big Advantage. Opening suit bids of one have "the tremendous advantage of keeping the bidding quite low and insuring unbiased information. Partners can save one and sometimes two precious rounds of bidding which leaves them ample time to exchange complete and detailed information.

For this reason the ideal bid in the Culbertson Standard System is a one bid in a suit. Opening bids of three or higher are rare because they always require and show a powerful trump suit; opening bids of two or two bids are merely tolerated as a necessary evil and are reserved for hands of such gigantic strength that a game is reasonably assured even if partner holds a new hand. The requirements for opening two-bids are from 4-1-2 to 5-1-2 honor tricks in three suits.

Crackers Hammer Memphis Pitchers To Win Third Game, 15-1; Young Stribling Batters Spar Mates as Bob Edgren Looks On

Southern amateur golf is improving. Progress of the championship at Chattanooga indicates clearly that the calibre of play is on the upward swing.

When has the field been so fast that a 79 could not get into the championship division of 32? When was an 86 left out of the best 96? This department has forgotten if it ever happened before.

At Chattanooga 32 players qualified with scores of 78 or better. The medalist, "Scuddy" Horner, carded a 71, one over par. Players with 87 were left completely out of the three major divisions.

Julius Hughes, Atlanta amateur champion and consolation winner in the 1930 Southern; Charlie Black Jr., and Dave Black, city and state titleholders, respectively, failed to make the grade. Instead, Charlie Yates Jr., and Charles Dannals Jr., of the younger Atlanta set, led the home town delegation.

The returns mean that there are more southern players than ever shooting in the 70's and that the younger generation is coming right along. The mills of the links grind slowly in producing champions but they grind right along. The future of southern golf has a rosy hue, say what you will.

FISHING HOLE-IN-ONE.

One has sort of begun to depend on South Georgia to keep shipments of fish stories coming steadily along. Here is one from Valdosta:

"Councilman Dave W. Plowden has returned from the lake at Jackson's Bluff, below Tallahassee, Fla., with a fish story which establishes him as one of the city's greatest anglers, and he brings Councilman L. J. Miller as a witness.

"The two fishermen were the week-end guests of R. H. Ferguson at Jackson's Bluff.

"Mr. Plowden reported he caught TWO TROUT at a single strike three times. In other words he caught six trout with three casts. He cast three times and drew in two trout at each cast, thus putting to rest all other fishermen in the party, and making it difficult for any other Valdosta fishermen to tell one after hearing this."

Catching fish, one at a time, is becoming less and less of a feat. If these South Georgia fishermen keep this up, they will be hailed into court for seining with a fly rod.

FORT SCHEMELING RETURNS THE FIRE.

Ralph McGill has been supplying the home folks with the choice defiances, rebuttals and wisecracks from Camp Stribling. Pa has been getting Joe Jacobs told every day or so.

Yet from our undercover man in Fort Schemeling comes one of Joe's orations. It shows what Fort Schemeling is thinking (if at all) of the forthcoming fistic fiesta:

"The contention of 'Pa' Stribling that Schmeling will ruin his chances if he gets fresh with Willie, with a right hand and starts using it promiscuously make me laugh," says Manager Jacobs.

"Schmeling will use that good right of his early and often. He won't be afraid to use it because the Striblings think Willie can ruin him with counter punches. In the old days a smart boxer never led with a right hand to another smart boxer. That is still true today.

"But Schmeling is a short, straight puncher, he won't miss much and I fail to see what Willie is going to do with his famous left hook when that right knocks him off balance and perhaps off his feet, which it probably will do sooner or later."

"The Striblings must have forgotten all about Max's left hand in their enthusiasm over the idea that he is a right hand leader and open to deadly counter punches from the port side as well as the starboard. They favor the port side because the left is supposed to be Willie's best duke.

"Well, I only hope they go in there just watching the Schmeling right. Schmeling is not a sucker right hand leader. Not by a long shot. But he has the best short straight right hand punch in the heavyweight class today, as good as any I have ever seen, and he will use it, too. The Striblings may have that information in advance."

From the sidelines it begins to look as if Pa and Joe have earned a draw. That is one of the functions of managers. Boxers, Jack Sharkey, excepted, talk with the knuckles, not the larynx.

CRACKERS BEAT MEMPHIS, 15-1, IN THIRD GAME

Barnes Gets Home Run, Triple and Single To Lead Attack.

By Max Hall.

Heavy artillery fire from the Crackers' big guns, together with the accurate marksmanship of Climax Blenheim, routed the Memphis Chickens in the third game of this series Thursday night at Spiller park, 15 to 1.

Climax Blenheim, an eight-run lead in the very first inning and kept pulling them on till a sizable total was reached. The wildness and ineffectiveness of the Memphis pitchers helped the Crackers to take Prothro's club to ride. Barnes and Tait hit home runs.

Climax Blenheim had the Tribe eating out of his good right paw. The one dinky little run made by the opponents was not earned. Climax gave up eight hits, which were scored and practically harmless. He struck out six men.

CLIMAX'S MEAN MOOD. Climax was in a mean mood Thursday night. Redskins hit the dust with regularity, the Redskins in this case being members of the Chickasaw tribe. Old Doc Prothro, himself, the big chief warrior of the pack, pitched exactly three times, and popped out the fourth time. Climax was using a nice change of pace, and the visitors were breaking their backs swinging at slow balls.

It was a highly gratifying evening to the rabid Crackers fans who comprised a large part of the crowd in attendance. After losing the opener by one run Tuesday and winning the second one rather handsily, the boys simply stepped out and won the third Chickasaw. To add to the beauty of it all they were the only first-inning club to win a game Thursday, and they did it in the first inning.

John Chapman, the new third baseman coming here from Nashville, failed to arrive for the game Thursday night. He is expected to get in today and play in the fourth game of the series tonight.

That first inning was simply murderous. The first seven men at bat scored runs. Kit May started on the mound for the Crackers, and he was enjoying a nice shower both before and after the game. He was greeted on the mound by a single by Red Barnes, who seems to have hit his stride at last. Kit May pitched a two-hitter, but shepherded the bases loaded, he walked Roy Carlyle. With the bases still loaded, May pitched a second walk to Sheehan and Doc Tait, after which, with the bases loaded, he walked Roy Carlyle. With the bases still loaded, May pitched a third walk to Sheehan and Doc Tait, after which, with the bases loaded, he walked Roy Carlyle.

Then Amos Martin pushed a double into right, scoring Ryan, and was thrown out trying to stretch it to a triple. It was like this: Ryan, double, Martin, out. Then Red Barnes came up and he hit a home run. Then Roy Carlyle came up and he hit a home run. Then Sheehan came up and he hit a home run. Then Doc Tait came up and he hit a home run. Then Roy Carlyle came up and he hit a home run. Then Sheehan came up and he hit a home run. Then Doc Tait came up and he hit a home run.

BARNES' HOMER. The Crackers scored again in the second when Shirley doubled and Autry singled him across. And again in the third when Red Barnes smashed a home run past the centerfielder for his third hit in three innings. And again in the fourth when Shirley doubled and Autry singled him across.

After two fruitless innings, another run scored in the seventh when Martin doubled with a man on base. In the eighth and last inning, the Crackers, Poco Tait came up with Barnes and Sheehan on base and knocked the ball a country mile to empty out the bag.

And Climax Blenheim, encouraged by such enthusiastic support, kept mowing the Chickasaws down. It was the second straight excellent hurling performance for the Atlanta club. Autry Messenger having scalped the Tribe roundly on Wednesday afternoon.

The lone Chick mark occurred in the fifth inning. After one of the George Granger, the pitcher, got a fluke single to short, and went to the mound to get the bases loaded, he was thrown out trying to stretch it to a triple. It was like this: Ryan, double, Martin, out. Then Red Barnes came up and he hit a home run. Then Roy Carlyle came up and he hit a home run. Then Sheehan came up and he hit a home run. Then Doc Tait came up and he hit a home run.

Young Red Barnes, Mule Shirley and Martin Autry were the hitting stars for the Crackers. In the first three games of the series Barnes has scored in seven, Shirley in six, and Autry in five. Barnes has hit a home run in each of the three games, Shirley has hit a home run in each of the three games, and Autry has hit a home run in each of the three games.

Auto in Garage, Chapman Absent

It is not at all unusual for a baseball player to stay out of the game on account of an injury to his person. But it is something else when a player misses a game because his automobile is disabled.

John Chapman, the new Crackers third baseman from Nashville, failed to arrive here Thursday to play against Memphis because his car was in the shop, and he absolutely refused to come without it.

"I can't swear," said Red J. Spiller, the Crackers' car man, "but that happens he'll be here for the game Friday night."

CHAPMAN SEEN AS AD TO CLUB

New Third Baseman Hits Hard and Hustles All the Time.

By Ed Danforth.

John Chapman, the new third baseman, is quite likely to do for the Crackers what Charlie Gooch did for the Barons, in the opinion of Johnny Dobbs, manager (in suspension). Chapman is coming in a trade for Bobby Lamotte and a bundle of cash.

Chapman is hitting .301, right now. Manager Dobbs said yesterday, "and he hit .280 last year with Mobile. He is certain to keep banging the ball at a .375 rate. You can imagine what such a hitter can do for our club."

Furthermore, Chappie is always hustling. He is in there fighting for the Crackers all the time. He is always chattering and yelling. His hands are good and his arm is strong. He will fit right into the lineup and go from the start. I believe he will make it possible for us to start a winning streak soon.

That elusive phenomenon, a Crackers winning streak, is long overdue. The Crackers have not been able to win a string of victories this season. They have been losing and losing, always somewhere in the race, yet never giving any of the other clubs much to worry about. Manager Dobbs has never had a club in this league that did not set off a string of victories at one time or another during a campaign. The 1931 dash is no exception.

Chapman when he was here a short time ago with the Vols looked slightly overweight. It will be recalled that he was persistent in his refusal to lose weight. He did not get into shape. Then after he signed and started, he had an injured finger. This prevented his getting into the pounds of surplus weight that are necessary for perfect condition.

Chapman will be down to his best weight in no time. Manager Dobbs has promised.

The Crackers pitching staff is in pretty fair shape right now. Jimmy Blenheim has never had a strikeout. Morrison after a long lay-off in which he pitched badly to batting practice was state when he started Tuesday night, but with a rest he will be ready to go after the Chickas before this series is over. Bunnie Hearn after two bad starts in the shape of a pitcher of the club is very good, thank you.

An all-star wrestling card will be staged at Almand tonight under the auspices of the Spanish-American War Veterans. The first preliminary will get under way at 8:30 o'clock.

Jack McDams, Atlanta wrestler, will make a 10-round decision over Lee Massey of Philadelphia, at Madison Square Garden.

Singer, who won the lightweight crown in less than one round, only to lose it in the same length of time a few months later to Tony Canzoneri, was easily the master of the chunky fighter from the Quaker City. He punched and jabbed almost at will, winning eight of the ten rounds. According to the Associated Press sheet, Massey shaded the former champion in the seventh while the third was even.

CHARLIE YATES AND CHAMPION TO MEET TODAY

Dannals Is Eliminated as Youngster Defeats Laxton in Chattanooga.

By Dillon Graham.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., June 18. (P)—Polly Boyd, several times Tennessee champion but never a winner in the southern amateur golf championship, today halted the title hopes of Sam Perry, Birmingham, in the second round of match play in the 1931 tournament here and established himself as a real contender.

The Chattanooga won, 3 and 1, shortly after Emmet Spiller, the 1930 victor from Memphis, had finally conquered Ewing Watkins, Chattanooga, on the 18th green by a two-hole margin.

After being two down through the 5th, Boyd—a familiar figure in Dixie tournaments for years—won three out of the next four holes to round the match. He was three over par on the eight holes of the back nine before he eliminated the 1929 champion. Several of Boyd's shots on the first nine were off line, but he managed to score without penalty.

Over the same Riverview course where they both have battled before, Boyd and Watkins fought the 18th hole. Boyd's shot was a 17, Watkins' a 18. Boyd's shot was a 17, Watkins' a 18. Boyd's shot was a 17, Watkins' a 18.

Opponent's Drinking Lost Crown For Sober Darcy

STIRLING'S TRAINING CAMP, GEAUGA LAKE, Ohio, June 18.—I'm sitting at the typewriter trying to think up something red hot when you should come in but Bob Smith, the mayor of 14th street, New York. Bob Smith handled his first fight in 1884, which was before you and you were born. He has handled them in the Klondike, in South America and in Europe. He lived four years in France, has been to England a dozen times and in every state in these United ones four or five times.

Wherever the voice of the greenback was to be heard Bob Smith would take a fighter. He had a number of them knocked horizontal by W. L. Stribling and he has given Pa Stribling quite a lot of advice.

There is a hostile look, as the boys say, in Bob Smith's eyes as he comes on me.

All these young punks writing about the good old days gives me a colic," says the mayor of Fourteenth street, just like that. "A colic?" I says.

"Always write" pieces that what the game needs is a wild bloke, a bloke what can never train and yet knock them kicking. A colic is what I gets from them pieces," says the mayor. "Them kind of guys is all gone now. And the racket is better off with 'em gone."

"But don't think that there is no soft spot in me old pumper for them boys. They wuz real boys. I still see 'em around in my territory in the East Side."

"You might say that I was oggled fond of one even if he did do me and Jimmy Darcy out of the title. Did I ever tell you the story?"

"WHAT A FIGHTER!" "He's dead and gone now," says Bob Smith, "dead and gone, God rest 'im. And what a fighter he was!"

"The day of the fight I hears that the champion had been coming all night and all day, just, just so there'd be no mistake about it."

"So I says to my boy, Jimmy Darcy, 'I says 'Here's your chance, Jim Darcy.' And you know what he says? 'I says I had no idea I was another like it.' Because Jim Darcy is a great kid who never scuffles up booze or keeps no late hours."

"So the bell rings and out they goes. Jim can't get near 'im. He comes back to the corner at the bell and I gives him a pat. And you know what he says? 'I heard many a curious thing in them corners, but never nothing like this.'"

THE SPORTLIGHT

Schmeling and Stribling.

The German champion and the Georgian challenger now have about 10 days of training left, but they both happen to be types who always keep in good condition. These next 10 days will be largely a matter of sharpening up and pointing for the keen edge on the night of July 3.

What Stribling must work for is greater aggressiveness, for he will need that to win. And what Schmeling needs is one or two rough and tumble scraps against the best sparring partners he can find to offset the fact that he has had only four rounds of real fighting in almost two years.

If Stribling can carry an aggressive attack into the ring he should be one of the best heavyweights in years. But that is a mental attitude that he must force. It hasn't been natural in his most important fights. He has more speed than Schmeling, he is faster, far more experienced, just as strong and as crafty and just as hard a puncher when he lets one fly.

Big Card Opens Roby's Arena

33 Rounds of Colored Boxing and Wrestling Offered Monday.

One of the best colored fight cards ever arranged in Atlanta will open the new Clevie Roby boxing arena at the corner of Cain and Courtland streets Monday night at 8:30 o'clock. Thirty-three rounds of fighting and wrestling will be offered at a small price.

The matches will be top-notch affairs. Bearcat Obie and Willie Bush top the card in a 10-round heavyweight clash, and this promises to be an exciting scrap. Obie is a 200-pounder and one of the fastest men of his weight in the game. Bush tips the scales at 190 and is a zany, hard-hitting brawler. These boys are husky and young—around 30 years old; both have won over Bob Lawson, Al Walker and others of their type, and each is mighty anxious for a knockout.

All other matches are of a high caliber, and make up the best prelims seen here for a long time.

The big show will open with a battle royal, followed by an old style catch-as-catch-can wrestling match between two countrymen, and there will be both excitement and amusement in these bouts.

Admissions will be within the reach of everyone—50c and $1, with ladies free, and an overflow attendance is expected.

The arena is an open air one and seats something like 3,000 fans. It will be divided into two sections with one reserved for white fans. It is the only sports arena of its kind in Georgia.

Two Local Boxers Fight in Thomaston

Casey Jones and Clint Townes, Atlanta fighters, will be featured on a card at Thomaston tonight. Each is slated to face a tough foe.

Jones, who has made a steady climb in welterweight ranks here, will battle the Marshall Cardwell, LaGrange star, in the main 10-round event. Cardwell recently won from Ted Goodrich in a bout staged at LaGrange.

Townes will face Young Helms, Thomaston featherweight, in a six-round go. The Atlanta battler is in good condition, according to his manager, Billy Loiz, and will be favored to defeat his rival.

Half and Half.

Bobby Jones, on his way to Columbus and to observe the Ryder cup and the open championship, confessed to conflicting emotions in regard to his capacity as spectator for the first time in his life. He least so far as the open is concerned.

Bobby admitted that he would miss the big thrill of this 72-hole test, but he also admitted he would take great pleasure in missing the heavy suffering that accompanied the three-day battle.

"In one way it is a lot of fun," he said, "but in another I'm not sure that the nerve strain and the mental suffering don't overbalance the thrills you get. This may sound ridiculous to a lot of folks, but it happens to be true. I guess I'll have more fun looking on. For this next one will be a heart-breaker from the first shot to the last putt."

WALTER HAGEN GETS 68, LEADS WESTERN OPEN

Record-Breaking Round Is Almost Equalled by Ed Dudley's 69.

By Paul Mickelson, Associated Press Sports Writer.

MIAMI VALLEY CLUB, DAYTON, Ohio, June 18.—(AP)—Walter Hagen found the range of the rolling fairways of the Miami Valley course today and shelled it with a record-smashing 68 that shoved him one shot in front of a closely bunched field in the western open golf championship fight.

Flashing the same form that made him one of golf's immortals a decade ago, The Haig just about made the first 18-hole round of the 72-hole struggle a one-man show until Ed Dudley, of Wilmington, Del., came in late with a 69.

Sir Walter, who promised his friends that he won't go through another year of the old style, just about everything in golf's category today. He had brilliancy and hard luck as he circled the first nine with a 36, one over par, and he had nothing but his old-time genius on his way back as he ripped the course apart with a 32.

Dudley, almost overlooked by the gallery when word went around that Hagen was tearing up the course, slipped in with rounds of 35-34, one of the most consistent of the day.

Wheat closed unsettled, 3-4 to 1 3-4 cents lower, corn unchanged to 1 5-8 down, oats 1-8 to 3-8 off and provisions unchanged to 10 cents up.

Canadian rains came when most needed by the spring wheat belt, long suffering from spring drought.

Stop loss selling accompanied the downward swing of wheat, and the market closed at almost the day's bottom figures. Advice that Russia had unexpectedly chartered vessels for the export of 300,000 tons of grain, about 3,750,000 bushels, was a disturbing factor.

Withdrawal of buying support let the corn market undergo a collapse for duty contracts. Much of the selling of July corn to the west, was simultaneous with buying of September. Oats sympathized with weakness of other cereals.

Provisions averaged higher, responsive to upturns in hog values.

SUGAR.

NEW YORK, June 18.—An advance of 1-16 of a cent, to the rate of 3.35 for spot, duty paid, occurred in the raw sugar market late yesterday. Although details of the business were not confirmed until today.

The sales reported to local and outport refiners, including some today, aggregated only 147,000 bags of Cuban, 57,000 bags of Porto Rico, 900 bags of Brazil and 130,000 all for June and early July arrival at 3.35 to 3.35. In addition there was a sale of 31,500 bags of Philippines for October-November shipment to a local refiner at 3.40, while operators bought 117,000 bags of new crop Philippines for February-April shipment at 3.50 to 3.52. There was also a sale of 10,000 bags of Cuban for August shipment to an operator at 1.25 f. o. b. Cuba.

Reflecting the increased activity and strength in the spot market, raw futures were firmer, closing with net gains of 2 to 3 points. The advance was due covering and trade buying. The market opened 1 to 3 points higher, and showed little fluctuation thereafter. Approximate sales were 67,790 tons, including nearly half in the form of exchanges, July closed 1.22; September 1.25; December 1.30; January 1.41½ March 1.46; May 1.53.

Refined was firm owing to the upturn in raws, with all refiners announcing an advance of 10 points effective at the close tomorrow on the basis of 4.55 for fine granulated; in the medium, however, business to-day and tomorrow is being accepted at a decline of 5 points from the present prevailing level, or at 4.40: It is expected that a good demand will develop before the upturn becomes effective.

TARZAN AT THE EARTH'S CORE No. 17

Jason Gridley now saw beneath and about him such a scene as probably no man in the world's history had ever witnessed before. Thousands of creatures, large and small, followed their leaders in a mad break for liberty. While at their rear hundreds of savage saber-toothed tigers leaped upon them, dragging down the weaker and battling with the stronger, leaving maimed and crippled behind them that they might charge into the herd again and drag down others. It was sickening in its horror, yet fascinating in its primitive strength.

Scores of the carnivore now closed in upon the mammoth. As they charged the pachyderm met them, catching two upon his tusks and tossing them high into the air. Others, rushing him from every side, fastened themselves to his back and flanks. Down he went, as though struck by lightning, squatting quickly upon his haunches and rolling over backward, crushing a dozen tigers before they could escape. Gridley could scarce repress a cheer as the great fellow staggered to his feet.
